Salvary Calling

Vol. I, No. 1

UNITED CHURCH WOMEN

February, 1963

Hello - Here we are, in our newest adventure in Christian Friendship - dropping in for a few minutes of chat about what we have done, what we are planning to do, and what we are hoping to do. We hope you will be interested in news of what has been done - that you will fall in with our plans for the future, and perhaps have suggestions for improving them - and that you will be able to help bring about some of our "hopes" - the things we would like to see, but have not made definite plans about yet. Anyway, let us know what you think about this little paper, and whether you would like to see more of them -- you will note that we have been optimistic, and called this No. 1, with the thought of future editions being published in the future.

First of all, the present name, if such it can be called, just came off the top of the Editor's head, so to speak. We wanted to express that we are interested in reaching not only the "UNITED CHURCH WOMEN", that is, the actual members of the organization by that name, but also all our United Church women. Of course, our first and biggest hope is that the two terms will eventually become synonymous, because we know that the purpose of the organization has been clearly stated: "To unite all women of the congregation for the total mission of the Church and to provide a medium through which they may express their loyalty and devotion to Jesus Christ in Christian Witness, Study, Fellowship and Service."

Bread not Stones

– Linda Woods

In 2014, the United Church of Canada launched “Bread Not Stones”, a national project to eradicate child poverty in Canada. The name comes from Matthew, chapter 7, verse 9: In the words of Jesus: “If a child asks for bread, who among us would give that child a stone.” National UCW adopted it as a project.
